Human Trafficking Facts

HT victims are trafficked for a wide variety of purposes, such as commercial sex, agricultural work, or housekeeping, yet they all share the loss of one of the world's most cherished rights – freedom.

There is no one consistent face of a trafficking victim. Trafficked persons can be rich or poor, men or women, adults or children, and foreign nationals or U.S. citizens.

There is no one consistent face of a trafficker. Traffickers include a wide range of criminal operators, including individual pimps, small families and businesses, loose-knit decentralized criminal networks, and international organized criminal syndicates.

At least 100,000 children are used in prostitution every year in the United States. Will the next child be yours?
